'Humiliation' Of Zhukov Seen Readied

Red Chinese Marshal Quoted by Pravda as Kremlin Sets Sights

LONDON (AP)—Soviet leaders today enlisted the support of a Red Chinese marshal in what looked like a Kremlin move preparing the Russian people for the humiliation of war hero Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist newspaper, gave a significant display to an article by Chinese Marshal Liu Po-cheng stressing the importance of party leadership over Communist armed forces, reports from Moscow said.

The article followed the general lines of a campaign in the Soviet press since Zhukov was summarily relieved one week ago of his post as Soviet defense minister.

Moscow was still silent on the reasons for Zhukov's ouster but speculation was rife in Moscow that he resisted the work of party agents in the army.

Reports reaching the West indicated Kremlin leaders were consolidating their position before speaking out. A purge of military friends of the ousted soldier is underway, reports said.

REPORTS of plans to bury Zhukov in an insignificant assignment came from Belgrade. But the Belgrade reports added that Zhukov is believed fighting behind the scenes to avoid banishment.

Private telephone conversations from Belgrade to foreigners in Moscow reportedly confirmed that Zhukov had been expelled from the Presidium and the Central Committee of the Communist Party. Yugoslavs expected an announcement of this from Moscow tonight.

Liu said in Pravda: "The party's leadership over a revolutionary army is primarily expressed in ideological leadership. One of the main tasks of the party's political work is to educate the army in the revolutionary spirit of Marxism-Leninism."

Liu's article first appeared in Peiping. Pravda reprinted it at the same time it announced a general amnesty for convicts serving less than three years for crimes "not a serious danger to the state."

The amnesty was announced as part of the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. The government said that, with some exceptions, it would also free all women with children under 8 years old, pregnant women, women over 55 years and men over 60.

Man Buried In City Dump Misses Death

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—While helping unload rubbish from the back of a dump truck, Richard Alegria lost his footing and toppled into the refuse pit. The truck's load of debris (five tons of it) spilled on top of him.

Alegria, 31, was completely buried under the trash Friday. The truck drove away from the city incinerator pit. The crew Alegria was working with failed to notice he was missing.

A huge power shovel began eating into the trash that covered Alegria. Load after load was lifted and dropped into the white-hot incinerator.

Finally the shovel's jaws bit into the debris and clamped shut six inches above the trapped rubbish worker. Another rip by the shovel and Alegria would have been dropped into the incinerator—or mangled in the jaws.

Instead, the shovel merely uncovered Alegria, who climbed to safety. He was treated for abrasions.

4 Persons Killed In Car-Truck Crash Near Bellefontaine

BELLEFONTAINE (AP)—A Zanesfield couple and a man and woman from Bellefontaine were killed Friday in the head-on collision of a car and a pickup truck.

Floyd Hurley, 47, principal of Lakeview school, and his wife Dorothy, 41, burned to death in the pickup truck when it caught fire in the collision on U. S. 33, three miles northwest of here.

Louis Dearwester, 58, and Mrs. Tom Shoffner, 41, both of Bellefontaine, were killed in the auto.

Five persons were injured. They are Mrs. Shoffner's 71-year-old husband and her 17-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Vona Reams; the Hurley children, Billie, 16, and Cathie, 6; and Ronnie Jones, 15.

Full Operation by Thanksgiving Is Goal

Pennington Plant Sets Nov. 11 As Target Date for Test Baking

The new million-dollar Pennington Bakery on Clinton Ave. probably will begin its first test baking Nov. 11 and be in full operation sometime prior to Thanksgiving Day.

The Nov. 11 target date was disclosed this week by Morgan B. Pennington, president of the firm which has built a plant second to none in the commercial baking industry on the ashes of a fire which leveled the former Washington C. H. bakery on June 9, 1956.

Pennington was here this week to supervise the unloading of the first car of flour into the plant's automatic flour-handling system. (See Page 5 for pictures).

The new Clinton Ave. plant will take the place of the three bakeries operated by the Pennington corporation before the fire and will be able, because of its modern equipment, to produce all the baked goods for the expanding Pennington market.

The increased business which will be handled by the Washington C. H. plant will offset any reduction in employment which normally would have resulted from the high degree of automation built into the new bakery, Pennington pointed out.

AS IT IS, employment at the beginning of production here will be approximately the same as before the fire. That means about 200 people—a figure which can grow as business grows.

Since the fire, bread has been trucked to Washington C. H. from Cincinnati in transport trucks and distributed to driver-salesmen here. Pennington recently leased it.

2 Men Handed Long Sentences in Assault

CLEVELAND (AP)—For stripping, raping and robbing a 29-year-old Lakewood woman they dragged under a bridge near Cleveland Stadium Sept. 29, two men drew long sentences Friday from Judge William J. McDermott.

A 26-to-35 year term was imposed on Tommy Willie Redding, 38, a laborer with a record of 11 felony convictions. Willie R. Hill, 21, who, the judge said, "might rehabilitate himself" because his record was "not so bad," got 15 to 25 years in the reformatory.

But Knight, vacationing out of the state, had no assurance that he could have the GOP nomination for the U. S. Senate without a fight, assuming that's the job he decided to seek instead of reelection as governor.

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, reached on a tour of Greece, said firmly he would not give up his quest for the Senate and predicted he would win the nomination. Knowland has announced he's giving up his Senate post when his term ends next year and has begun his campaign for the governorship.

Christopher said in Athens: "Knight gave me on two occasions his sacred word of honor that he would not run for the Senate."

He "assumes" the governor is a man of his word.

The mayor said he had cabled his San Francisco office to "proudly full speed ahead" with his campaign. "I remain steadfast to my decision, which was based on what I consider is right and not on what other people do," he said.

Two other Republican Senate candidates indicated they would await Knight's decision. They are State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood and Warren K. Atherton, Stockton attorney and former national commander of the American Legion.

Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), leading contender on the Democratic ticket, reaffirmed his intention to run whether Knight goes after the Senate seat held by Knowland since 1944.

Knight's reported pullout meant chery news for Vice President Nixon, the third member of California's GOP big

The enlarged loading dock at the new plant here will also serve route trucks formerly loaded at Dayton and at Seaman. In addition to the driver-salesmen working out of Washington C. H., the office force and the mechanics who service the company's trucks in a modern garage and body shop in the rear of the new bakery bring present employment to approximately 100.

OUTSIDE of mechanics and equipment installers, the only people working on the big baking floor are members of a small crew which is toasting and packaging cube-ettes, made from returned bread and used for dressings. Approximately 3,000 packages are being turned out each day, and this phase of the operation will continue until Christmas.

Not only are the toasted cubes in demand at stores, but the toasting operation gives employees an excellent opportunity to test the two big ovens—one of which will be used in producing bread, the other buns and rolls.

One of the most spectacular pieces of equipment at the new bakery is the automatic bread-cooling system and conveyor which has an overall length of nearly a mile, according to Howard G. Wright, Pennington vice president and manager of the local operation.

This system, which automatically dumps bread from pans and then carries the finished product into wrapping machines and the pans to their proper place, has 48 electric motors.

A delay in completing this intricate installation has held up the plant's production date two weeks longer than had been anticipated.

U. N. Diplomats See Red Loss In Syrian Fuss

Arab Nation Quits Debate over Alleged Actions by Turkey

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomats speculated today that Russia may have lost more than she gained by trying to make a major crisis out of Syria's border dispute with Turkey.

While the Soviets managed to get considerable propaganda mileage out of the Middle East debate, U. N. delegates said, Russia also stirred resentment among some of the nations they most wanted to win over.

General Assembly debate ended abruptly Friday when Syria said she was willing to leave without any action for the present her Soviet-backed charge that Turkey planned to attack her.

A number of Arab delegates privately expressed resentment over being virtually forced, through their pledge of Arab unity, to back a cause for which they had little stomach.

Even India's V. K. Krishna Menon, who rarely criticizes Soviet actions, showed little apparent liking for the Soviet war charges and tried to get Syria to settle her difference with Turkey over a conference table.

Russia's charge that the United States was trying to goad Turkey into war against Syria had some initial effect on Arab-Asian leaders. But when the Soviets announced the supposed invasion would take place last Monday and the day passed without incident, delegates became dubious about the charges.

There was some feeling the Kremlin may have staged the debate at this time to detract attention from the anniversary of the Hungarian revolt that prompted the last Assembly to denounce Russian aggression.

One Western delegate expressed the view that the debate and Russia's obvious stage managing of Syria's case had one good effect—to show Middle East delegates what life would be like in the Soviet orbit.

Bricker Puts OK on Liberal Education

WILBERFORCE (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) Friday defended the role of broad, liberal education in the age of specialization.

In a prepared speech at the annual fall convocation at Wilberforce University, Bricker said:

"Only by means of a liberal education will you be able to participate fully in the heritage of western civilization. In no other way can you link yourself to the great chain of intellectual life."

Bricker said he disagreed with the criticism that a liberal education "teaches tolerance of all views and doctrines without arriving at any definite conclusions."

"A liberal education," the senator said, "is the disciplining of free minds; a tolerant person is one who knowing what is true, believes that even error is entitled to a hearing in the court of public opinion."

He said the need for liberal minds is greater today than ever before as a result of the tremendous advances and changes made in human life by science.

"I assure you that we are standing at the threshold of a revolution more momentous even than the industrial revolution," Sen. Bricker said.

He added that liberal education with its stress on human values is needed to make proper use of an adequate adjustment to the atomic age.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over the Northeast and also over the Great Plains. Subnormal precipitation is predicted west of the Continental Divide and in the Southeast.

Chimney's Wrong Fall Proves Costly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Quartz Co. contracted to pay for removal of a 208-foot chimney at its plant, but now it wants $34,150 damages because the job went the wrong way. The Consolidated Chimney Co. of Chicago caused the chimney to fall, all right, but not on open ground at the west. It toppled southward right on the building.

Bank Prexy's Son Accused In Shortage

NEW PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A routine check of the books has turned up a shortage of about $35,000 at the Oxford Bank of nearby Newcomerstown and resulted in dismissal of the cashier.

No charges have been filed against William R. Palmer, 32, cashier for the last three years and son of the bank's president, L. B. Palmer.

The elder Palmer said his son, daughter-in-law and their two children left for Detroit late Thursday after the bank's board of directors dismissed the cashier for what the bank described as "discrepancies found in bank records."

The FBI entered the case several days ago and its continuing investigation.

"I've been all broken up about it," said the elder Palmer, who said he was on hand when his son, a church choir member, admitted the shortage Monday.

R. E. McDaniel, first deputy superintendent of banks in Ohio, said in Columbus Friday night that when a bank examiner approached young Palmer Monday about irregularities turned up in a routine examination of records, the cashier told the examiner of the $35,000 discrepancy. A complete audit indicates the $35,000 figure is approximately correct.

Eisenhower Said 'Agonizing Slow' To Sense Red Move

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Truman charged Friday night that President Eisenhower was "agonizing slow" to sense the new danger posed by the successful launching of a Russian satellite.

"And when made aware of it," Truman said, "he was slow to do what he ought to do."

In a speech peppered with scorn for the Eisenhower administration, particularly with reference to national defense and foreign affairs, the ex-President told a Jefferson-Jackson day banquet audience:

"While the Russians were demonstrating their scientific advances, the administration was actually issuing secret orders cutting down on basic research in the defense establishment."

O'Neill's 'Publicity Corps' Rapped by Ohio Dem Chief

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill was given another verbal lashing Friday by Ohio's Democratic chairman, this time it was for "squandering the taxpayers' money on a high-priced publicity corps."

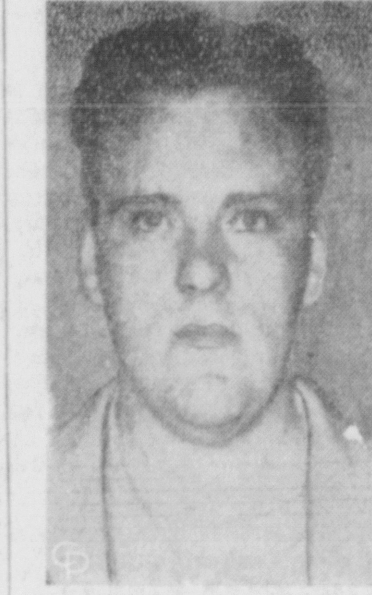

William L. Coleman, the Democrats' chief spokesman, took O'Neill and company to task for spending what he estimated to be $15,000 yearly in taxpayers' money for "personal publicity" for the governor.

O'Neill, who was in Dayton Friday night, told newsmen there he would not comment on Coleman's statement.

Coleman's statement, issued through Democratic Party headquarters here, accused the Republican governor of "squandering the taxpayers' money on a high-priced publicity corps whose principal duty is to cover up the inadequacies and incompetencies of his administration."

Coleman summed up his verbal barrage with: "Gov. O'Neill needs more than publicity men; he needs

Protestant Giving Tops $2 Billion

NEW YORK (AP)—Protestant churches in the United States have reached a new all-time high in contributions, passing the $2 billion mark for the first time.

Fifty-two Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Church bodies contributed $2,041,908,161 in the last year, the National Council of Churches reports. The figures were compiled by the council's department of stewardship and benevolence.

Of the total in contributions, $1,655,039,930, or 81 per cent, was reported for local congregational expenses. Contributions to benevolence, which includes foreign and home missions and relief abroad, amounted to $386,868,231.

It noted that the Seventh Day Adventists, with a membership of 288,568, lead again this year with $202 in contributions per member. The Wesleyan Methodist Church was next, with $197, followed by the Evangelical Free Church of America with $165. The two churches have 36,390 and 27,203 members, respectively.

Combine Seen Worth Total Of $5½ Billion

Experts Doubtful Government Agencies Would Approve Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—Two rail giants, their profits off, are considering a merger that would create the world's largest railroad in revenue and assets.

Citing common problems and changed economic conditions, the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads Friday announced they have begun studies looking toward a possible merger into one consolidated system.

The two roads are the largest in the country, based on annual revenue. Their combined assets are in excess of $5½ billion.

The announcement by James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, and Alfred E. Perlman, president of the Central, was made after the New York and other stock exchanges had closed for the day.

Stocks of the railroads on the New York exchange were both off 12½ cents. Previous announcements of planned mergers have been reflected on the exchange by flurries of activity.

WALL STREET observers took a rather skeptical view of the proposed merger, pointing out the many roadblocks that would have to be cleared—approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the possibility that the Justice Department could intervene on antitrust grounds.

Railroad and investment men indicated it could be years before the Central and Pennsylvania operated as a single company on the same tracks.

The ICC has long held that competing lines should not be permitted to merge. The commission has refused to approve the effort by Robert R. Young, chairman of the Central, to merge the Central and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway because, the ICC said, the result would be loss of "extensive competition" between the two railroads.

The Pennsylvania and Central compete in some areas, chiefly: between New York and Chicago.

In Washington, both the ICC and the Justice Department declined comment Friday night on the merger possibility. In proposed railroad mergers, the ICC investigates to determine if, among other things, the proposal would be in the public interest. The Justice Department usually intervenes to follow the testimony presented.

A merger would apply both to the physical properties and the financial structure. It would enable the roads to consolidate terminal facilities and eliminate duplicate rail and yard facilities.

A MERGER of the roads would create the 11th largest corporation in the country.

Earnings of both railroads plummeted this year. In the first nine months of the year the Pennsylvania had net earnings of $19,381,366 after taxes, a sharp drop from $31,291,852 in the same period last year.

The Central's net earnings fell to $8,759,018 after taxes in the first nine months of this year from $28,172,388 last year.

Halloween Heroism Brings Medal to Toledo Girl, 12

TOLEDO (AP)—For heroism on Halloween last year, 12-year-old Patricia Schieb has won a Carnegie Award. She is the youngest of the 30 who were granted the coveted medals this year.

It happened when she and seven other children were walking near her home. An automobile swept down the wrong side of the highway. She yelled at the children and pushed 8-year-old Daniel Stone into the ditch.

The citation which came with her bronze medal continues: "Immediately thereafter the automobile, travelling at undiminished speed, struck Patricia. She was thrown 15 feet and struck the ground six feet from the side of the road as the vehicle left the scene. Daniel escaped injury."

The girl suffered a double fracture of a thigh, but has recovered.

The mayor said he had cabled his San Francisco office to "proceed full speed ahead" with his campaign. "I remain steadfast to my decision, which was based on what I consider is right and not on what other people do," he said.

Two other Republican Senate candidates indicated they would await Knight's decision. They are State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood and Warren K. Atherton, Stockton attorney and former national commander of the American Legion.

Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), leading contender on the Democratic ticket, reaffirmed his intention to run whether Knight goes after the Senate seat held by Knowland since 1944.

Knight's reported pullout meant cheery news for Vice President Nixon, the third member of California's GOP big three, who might have been caught in the middle of a Knight-Knowland battle for governor.

Nixon also got another break. An authoritative source in Washington said Knowland will step out of Nixon's way and not enter any presidential primaries outside California in 1960.

Assemblyman William A. Munnell (D-Montebello), assembly minority leader, raised the question of the 60-year-old Knight's health.

He said the governor "has been not only physically but emotionally ill, and that is why he has been kept from public view."

Knight, before leaving Monday, was confined to the Executive Mansion for 12 days. His office said he had the flu. Knight, in a statement issued after his departure, described himself as weak and said his doctor had ordered him to take a three-week rest.

He said the need for liberal minds is greater today than ever before as a result of the tremendous advances and changes made in human life by science.

"I assure you that we are standing at the threshold of a revolution more momentous even than the industrial revolution," Sen. Bricker said.

He added that liberal education with its stress on human values is needed to make proper use of an adequate adjustment to the atomic age.

U. N. Diplomats See Red Loss In Syrian Fuss

Arab Nation Quits Debate over Alleged Actions by Turkey

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomats speculated today that Russia may have lost more than she gained by trying to make a major crisis out of Syria's border dispute with Turkey.

While the Soviets managed to get considerable propaganda mileage out of the Middle East debate, U. N. delegates said, Russia also stirred resentment among some of the nations they most wanted to win over.

General Assembly debate ended abruptly Friday when Syria said she was willing to leave without any action for the present her Soviet-backed charge that Turkey planned to attack her.

A number of Arab delegates privately expressed resentment over being virtually forced, through their pledge of Arab unity, to back a cause for which they had little stomach.

Even India's V. K. Krishna Menon, who rarely criticizes Soviet actions, showed little apparent liking for the Soviet war charges and tried to get Syria to settle her difference with Turkey over a conference table.

Russia's charge that the United States was trying to goad Turkey into war against Syria had some initial effect on Arab-Asian leaders. But when the Soviets announced the supposed invasion would take place last Monday and the day passed without incident, delegates became dubious about the charges.

There was some feeling the Kremlin may have staged the debate at this time to detract attention from the anniversary of the Hungarian revolt that prompted the last Assembly to denounce Russian aggression.

One Western delegate expressed the view that the debate and Russia's obvious stage managing of Syria's case had one good effect—to show Middle East delegates what life would be like in the Soviet orbit.

Bricker Puts OK on Liberal Education

WILBERFORCE (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) Friday defended the role of broad, liberal education in the age of specialization.

In a prepared speech at the annual fall convocation at Wilberforce University, Bricker said:

"Only by means of a liberal education will you be able to participate fully in the heritage of western civilization. In no other way can you link yourself to the great chain of intellectual life."

Bricker said he disagreed with the criticism that a liberal education "teaches tolerance of all views and doctrines without arriving at any definite conclusions." "A liberal education," the senator said, "is the disciplining of free minds; a tolerant person is one who knowing what is true, believes that even error is entitled to a hearing in the court of public opinion."

He said the need for liberal minds is greater today than ever before as a result of the tremendous advances and changes made in human life by science.

"I assure you that we are standing at the threshold of a revolution more momentous even than the industrial revolution," Sen. Bricker said.

He added that liberal education with its stress on human values is needed to make proper use of an adequate adjustment to the atomic age.

Chimney's Wrong Fall Proves Costly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Quartz Co. contracted to pay for removal of a 208-foot chimney at its plant, but now it wants $34,150 damages because the job went the wrong way.

The Consolidated Chimney Co. of Chicago caused the chimney to fall, all right, but not on open ground at the west. It toppled southward right on the building.

Bank Prexy's Son Accused In Shortage

NEW PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A routine check of the books has turned up a shortage of about $35,000 at the Oxford Bank of near-by Newcomerstown and resulted in dismissal of the cashier.

No charges have been filed against William R. Palmer, 32, cashier for the last three years and son of the bank's president, L. B. Palmer.

The elder Palmer said his son, daughter-in-law and their two children left for Detroit late Thursday after the bank's board of directors dismissed the cashier for what the bank described as "discrepancies found in bank records."

The FBI entered the case several days ago and its continuing investigation.

"I've been all broken up about it," said the elder Palmer, who said he was on hand when his son, a church choir member, admitted the shortage Monday.

R. E. McDaniel, first deputy superintendent of banks in Ohio, said in Columbus Friday night that when a bank examiner approached young Palmer Monday about irregularities turned up in a routine examination of records, the cashier told the examiner of the $35,000 discrepancy. A complete audit indicates the $35,000 figure is approximately correct.

Eisenhower Said 'Agonizing Slow' To Sense Red Move

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Truman charged Friday night that President Eisenhower was "agonizingly slow" to sense the new danger posed by the successful launching of a Russian satellite.

"And when made aware of it," Truman said, "he was slow to do what he ought to do."

In a speech peppered with scorn for the Eisenhower administration, particularly with reference to national defense and foreign affairs, the ex-President told a Jefferson-Jackson day banquet audience:

"While the Russians were demonstrating their scientific advances, the administration was actually issuing secret orders cutting down on basic research in the defense establishment."

O'Neill's 'Publicity Corps' Rapped by Ohio Dem Chief

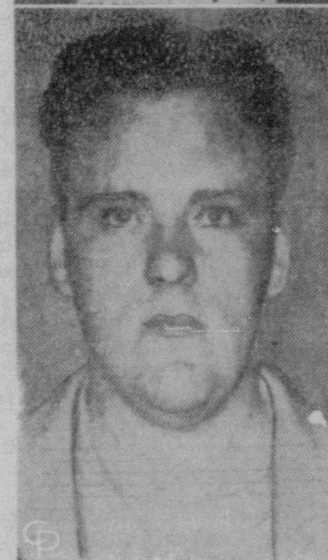

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill was given another verbal lashing Friday by Ohio Democratic chairman, this time it was for "squandering the taxpayers' money on a high-priced publicity corps."

William L. Coleman, the Democrats' chief spokesman, took O'Neill and company to task for spending what he estimated to be $115,000 yearly in taxpayers' money for "personal publicity" for the governor.

O'Neill, who was in Dayton Friday night, told newsmen there he would not comment on Coleman's statement.

Coleman's statement, issued through Democratic Party headquarters here, accused the Republican governor of "squandering the taxpayers' money on a high-priced publicity corps whose principal duty is to cover up the inadequacies and incompetencies of his administration."

Checking Up

SECRET SERVICE agents are looking into the case of two Air Force sergeants accused of checking more than 400 checks worth $100,000 into their own pockets. Charged with fraud are T/Sgt. Theodore Barry (real name Theodore Goldberg) (top) of Louisville, Ky., and S/Sgt. Charles Evans of Dyersburg, Tenn. (bottom.)

Protestant Giving Tops $2 Billion

NEW YORK (AP)—Protestant churches in the United States have reached a new all-time high in contributions, passing the $2 billion mark for the first time.

Fifty-two Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Church bodies contributed $2,041,908,161 in the last year, the National Council of Churches reports. The figures were compiled by the council's department of stewardship and benevolence.

Of the total in contributions, $1,655,039,930, or 81 per cent, was reported for local congregational expenses. Contributions to benevolence, which includes foreign and home missions and relief abroad, amounted to $386,868,231.

It noted that the Seventh Day Adventists, with a membership of 288,568, lead again this year with $202 in contributions per member. The Wesleyan Methodist Church was next, with $197, followed by the Evangelical Free Church of America with $165. The two churches have 36,390 and 27,203 members, respectively.

miracle men to help him obtain reelection."

WHAT APPARENTLY triggered Coleman's vexation was a meeting of 18 state-paid publicity men in the governor's mansion Wednesday.

The Democratic Party boss said these 18 earn a combined salary of $140,000 annually, and that the assemblage was far from being complete.

"Many of these men have jobs which are valuable to the state and for these jobs I have no criticism," Coleman asserted.

"But since the O'Neill administration began, new jobs have been created for any publicity man who thought he could help O'Neill camouflage the inadequacies of the present administration or promote O'Neill's campaign for reelection next year," he charged.

Coleman said that O'Neill's Democratic predecessor, Frank J. Lausche, now a U. S. senator, "never found it necessary to spend the taxpayers' money on a publicity man."

Combine Seen Worth Total Of $5½ Billion

Experts Doubtful Government Agencies Would Approve Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—Two rail giants, their profits off, are considering a merger that would create the world's largest railroad in revenue and assets.

Citing common problems and changed economic conditions, the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads Friday announced they have begun studies looking toward a possible merger into one consolidated system.

The two roads are the largest in the country, based on annual revenue. Their combined assets are in excess of $5½ billion.

The announcement by James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, and Alfred E. Perlman, president of the Central, was made after the New York and other stock exchanges had closed for the day.

Stocks of the railroads on the New York exchange were both off 12.5 cents. Previous announcements of planned mergers have been reflected on the exchange by flurries of activity.

WALL STREET observers took a rather skeptical view of the proposed merger, pointing out the many roadblocks that would have to be cleared—approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the possibility that the Justice Department could intervene on antitrust grounds.

Railroad and investment men indicated it could be years before the Central and Pennsylvania operated as a single company on the same tracks.

The ICC has long held that competing lines should not be permitted to merge. The commission has refused to approve the effort by Robert R. Young, chairman of the Central, to merge the Central and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway because, the ICC said, the result would be loss of "extensive competition" between the two railroads.

The Pennsylvania and Central compete in some areas, chiefly between New York and Chicago.

In Washington, both the ICC and the Justice Department declined comment Friday night on the merger possibility. In proposed railroad mergers, the ICC investigates to determine if, among other things, the proposal would be in the public interest. The Justice Department usually intervenes to follow the testimony presented.

A merger would apply both to the physical properties and the financial structure. It would enable the roads to consolidate terminal facilities and eliminate duplicate rail and yard facilities.

A MERGER of the roads would create the 11th largest corporation in the country.

Earnings of both railroads plummeted this year. In the first nine months of the year the Pennsylvania had net earnings of $19,581,366 after taxes, a sharp drop from $31,291,852 in the same period last year.

The Central's net earnings fell to $8,759,018 after taxes in the first nine months of this year from $28,172,388 last year.

Halloween Heroism Brings Medal to Toledo Girl, 12

TOLEDO (AP)—For heroism on Halloween last year, 12-year-old Patricia Schieb has won a Carnegie Award. She is the youngest of the 30 who were granted the coveted medals this year.

It happened when she and seven other children were walking near her home. An automobile swept down the wrong side of the highway. She yelled at the children and pushed 8-year-old Daniel Stone into the ditch.

The citation which came with her bronze medal continues: "Immediately thereafter the automobile, travelling at undiminished speed, struck Patricia. She was thrown 15 feet and struck the ground six feet from the side of the road as the vehicle left the scene. Daniel escaped injury."

The girl suffered a double fracture of a thigh, but has recovered.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — The United Nations is waging bacteriological warfare against insects imperiling the rich coconut groves of Polynesia. The destructive insects, spawned in the aftermath of war, threaten the chief means of livelihood of thousands of natives. Human life in the Pacific islands would be impossible without coconut palms. Natives would be forced to abandon all settlements. Public enemy of the islanders is the huge, horned rhinoceros beetle. The UN's South Pacific commission has now opened warfare on the beetle from the central to the southern Pacific. A $50,000 grant from the Rockefeller foundation sparked a three-year hunt for diseases of the beetle with the aim of fighting the menace with germ warfare. The rhinoceros beetle infiltrated the South Pacific islands by stowing away in war cargoes and military supplies from 1942-1946. It came from southeast Asia. The beetles found they had no natural enemies in the Pacific islands. They thrived and are now a deadly pest. The beetles breed in the blasted coconut groves of World War II. They finally fly to the tree tops, devour the crowns and kill the palms.

Borrowed Money
Helps Run Farms

COLUMBUS — Ohio farmers used over a half billion dollars of credit from agricultural lenders, commercial banks and individuals last year, according to Lester L. Arnold, Ohio State University extension economist. This amount, the economist says, represents an increase of 8 per cent in non-real estate debt and 4 per cent in real estate debt outstanding over the previous year. Non-real estate loans are those not secured by farm land. Total credit used last year, Arnold says, would add up to considerably more than one-half billion dollars, since the figures do not include non-real estate credit outstanding from individuals and merchants and short-term production-type credit borrowed and repaid during the year. THE AMOUNT of agricultural credit which Ohio farmers are using has increased about 96 per cent since 1950, Arnold says. This is indicated by a 107 per cent increase in real estate debt and 73 per cent increase in non-real estate debt. The capital investment and operating costs required on efficient farms today exceed the ready cash that most farmers have. Consequently, Arnold says, they must resort to borrowed money to finance their operations.

Area Farmer Gives
Christmas Views
In Magazine Forum

An area farmer's opinion on Christmas commercialism has been selected to appear in "Grass Roots Wire," a regular feature of "Capper's Farmer Magazine." The farmer, Ray Cummings, Route 2, Leesburg, has told Capper's editor, David W. Klinger, that "Christmas must be kept sacred." Each month, the "wire" column asks farmers across the nation to discuss their views on certain subjects. Cummings received a wire from Klinger asking his opinion on the Christmas question. "We need be much concerned about commercialism in Christmas," Cummings answer says, adding: "Christmas has become what it is by the spendthrift public." "Christmas is supposed to be a celebration of the birthday of Christ, and the giving of gifts. Everyone should take part in the giving of gifts, especially to the needy." "Santa Claus should not be exhibited here, there and everywhere so long before Christmas," Cummings comments saying: "He loses his prestige and even becomes a bore."

Econogram for Farmers

EDITOR'S NOTE: These news highlights in economics and public affairs relating to agriculture are summarized by agricultural extension economists at Ohio State University.

Disposable income (income after taxes) rose $3.1 billion between the second and third quarter of 1957 to a record high of $303 billion. Consumer expenditures rose more than disposable income and the rate of savings fell from 7 per cent to 6.5 per cent of disposable income.

Consumer credit in August reached $42.9 billion an increase of $8 billion since August 1956. Installment credit amounted to $33 billion of which automobile loans accounted for $15.5 billions.

Corporate profits in the second quarter of 1957 declined almost $2 billions below the first quarter and slightly lower than in same period of 1956. Corporate taxes in 1956 were $22 billion.

Work on the six-room addition to the Herefordshire Motel on Route 22 west, is progressing rapidly, and completion will be around Dec. 15.

The new addition, built at the west end of the original motel, is similar in construction to the main building, and will also be modern in every way, with heat when needed.

The addition is being built to meet heavy demands of tourists on Route 22, and is one of three motels in and near Washington C. H. located on Route 22.

One motel, or tourist court, in the city is on Route 35 and three motels and motor courts are on CCC Highway north, one within the city, and the others northeast of here.

In all there are now seven motels and motor courts in the county, three inside the city and in all probability additional motels will be constructed in the city and county during the new few years, inasmuch as the three federal routes through the county are drawing an increased number of vehicles.

Local hotels have been heavily patronized by tourists year after year.

SHOES FOR OXEN
While few present day folks have ever seen shoes for oxen they really existed in the days when yokes of oxen were used for heavy hauling instead of horses.

The ordinary iron shoe for an ox fit on each side of the cloven hoof and was a little over four inches in length.

However, one of two ox shoes recently given to the Fayette County Historical Society by Harold Engle, Devalon Rd., is nearly 5½ inches in length, hand made, and must have been used for shoeing an exceptionally large ox.

The ox shoes much resemble an ordinary horse shoe, except they are less than half of a horseshoe, so they could be nailed to each side of the hoof, and not be connected.

Some of the last oxen shod in Fayette County, were given their new shoes 52 years ago, at the Douglas Funk blacksmith shop at Plano (Dog Town) on the White Rd.

Several teams (I mean yokes) of oxen were used in dragging logs to a saw mill in a large tract of timber on the Dudley Briggs farm near Plano, and Otis Stookey, Washington C. H. recalls watching Funk shoe the beasts.

He also recalls that one large yoke of brindle oxen was called Buck and Berry, favorite names for oxen.

Other names for oxen—and they all knew their names— included Tom, Bill, Joe, Jack, Dick, Bud, Jim, Harry, Brindle, Red, and other similar short names.

Oxen wore no harness other than wooden yokes about their necks, and these were attached to the tongue of the vehicle to be pulled, or to a chain or rope used in hitching them to whatever was to be pulled.

They were controlled by a driver with a long "blacksnake" whip, who also addressed the oxen much

N. Y. Central Answer on Trains Asked

COLUMBUS, Ohio —The Utilities commission has given the New York Central Railroad 15 days to answer complaints against its action in discontinuing four trains last Sunday.

The city of Cincinnati protested against removing two Cincinnati-Cleveland and two Cincinnati-Toledo trains, while Transportation Brotherhoods and R. H. Murphy's Sons Co. of Urbana protested against removing the two Cincinnati-Toledo trains.

Meanwhile, C. Howard Johnson, a commission attorney examiner, took under advisement the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad to remove South Charleston in Clark County as a conditional stop for two Indianapolis to Columbus trains.

The railroad discontinued the two trains Nos. 20 and 21 Sunday, but today's hearing was made necessary because the conditional stop is that railroad's last passenger service to South Charleston.

No protests were voiced in the hearing and railroad executives testified the conditional stop was used infrequently by persons bound for Springfield. They pointed out the Pennsylvania has regular passenger service at Xenia. It has no passenger service at Springfield.

of the beetle and possible diseases which might eradicate it.

Dr. Paul Surany, of the Illinois state natural history survey, visited Madagascar, Indonesia and India studying places where the beetle is checked by natural enemies.

In the U. S.-held trust territory of the Marshall Islands, fallen coconut trees are burned or hauled off into the sea.

Larvae of a predator insect—which feeds on grubs of the rhinoceros beetle—have been released in Samoa and other affected islands.

THE WHOLE pattern of life in the Pacific islands, United Nations officials here point out, is conditioned by the coconut palm. These islands used to support much larger populations than they do today.

Copra is the only source of income for many of the islanders, about 200,000 tons being exported annually from the entire region.

Unless the germ warfare launched by the South Pacific commission checks ravages of the rhinoceros beetle, officials fear the economic future of the islanders will be grim indeed.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Work on the six-room addition to the Herefordshire Motel on Route 22 west, is progressing rapidly, and completion will be around Dec. 15.

The new addition, built at the west end of the original motel, is similar in construction to the main building, and will also be modern in every way, with heat when needed.

The addition is being built to meet heavy demands of tourists on Route 22, and is one of three motels in and near Washington C. H. located on Route 22.

One motel, or tourist court, in the city is on Route 35 and three motels and motor courts are on U. S. Highway north, one within the city, and the others northeast of here.

In all there are now seven motels and motor courts in the county, three inside the city and in all probability additional motels will be constructed in the city and county during the new few years, inasmuch as the three federal routes through the county are drawing an increased number of vehicles.

Local hotels have been heavily patronized by tourists year after year.

Recently I noticed in the far left column in the classified ads in the Record-Herald, an advertisement that clearly indicates the man who wrote the advertisement has vision and an aptitude for selling things.

If you did not see the advertisement. I will quote part of it for you.

"For Sale—26½ acres woodland on Big Copperas Mt. Should be good location for hunting lodge. $50 an acre. Plenty deer in vicinity. Not far from Camp Pike State Forest, Paint Creek, Nudist Camp, and uranium diggings." That advertisement must have caused a rush of buyers.

SHOES FOR OXEN

While few present day folks have ever seen shoes for oxen they really existed in the days when yokes of oxen were used for heavy hauling instead of horses.

The ordinary iron shoe for an ox fit on each side of the cloven hoof and was a little over four inches in length.

However, one of two ox shoes recently given to the Fayette County Historical Society by Harold Engle, Devalon Rd., is nearly 5½ inches in length, hand made, and must have been used for shoeing an exceptionally large ox.

The ox shoes much resemble an ordinary horse shoe, except they are less than half of a horseshoe, so they could be nailed to each side of the hoof, and not be connected.

Some of the last oxen shod in Fayette County were given their new shoes 52 years ago, at the Douglas Funk blacksmith shop at Plano Dog Town on the White Rd.

Several teams (I mean yokes) of oxen were used in dragging logs to a saw mill in a large tract of timber on the Dudley Briggs farm near Plano, and Otis Stookey, Washington C. H. recalls watching Funk shoe the beasts.

He also recalls that one large yoke of brindle oxen was called Buck and Berry, favorite names for oxen.

Other names for oxen—and they all knew their names— included Tom, Bill, Joe, Jack, Dick, Bud, Jim, Harry, Brindle, Red, and other similar short names.

Oxen wore no harness other than wooden yokes about their necks, and these were attached to the tongue of the vehicle to be pulled, or to a chain or rope used in hitching them to whatever was to be pulled.

They were controlled by a driver with a long "blacksnake" whip, who also addressed the oxen much

Hog Price Cut Runs 12½ Pct.

But Ag Agency Says
Production Holds Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Producer prices of hogs declined about 12½ per cent between mid-July and mid-October, but this drop took little out of the incentive to raise more of the porkers.

Prices of corn, the major factor in determining costs of raising hogs, declined just as much. As a consequence, a farmer can make about as much out of corn fed to hogs at the mid-October prices as he could from corn fed to hogs at the mid-July prices.

An Agriculture Department farm price report shows that hogs brought producers an average of $19.30 a hundred pounds in mid-July and $16.90 in mid-October.

Corn, on the other hand, sold for an average of $1.23 a bushel in mid-July and $1.06 in mid-October.

Expressed in farmer parlance, the hog-corn ratio was 15.7 to 1 in mid-July and 15.9 to 1 in mid-October. This means that 100 pounds of live hog would buy 15.7 bushels of corn in mid-July and 15.9 in mid-October.

Records show that when the ratio is wider than 12-1, farmers tend to increase hog production, but when it falls below that ratio they tend to reduce production.

It would appear that despite the recent decline in hog prices, there is a strong possibility that farmers will continue to expand production of hogs.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has urged producers to go slow in stepping up production lest they overproduce and bring prices crashing down to unfavorable levels, as happened two years ago.

The hog-corn ratio is considerably more favorable than it was a year ago. At that time 100 pounds of hog would buy only 13 bushels of corn. Two years ago the ratio dropped to around 10-1. A sharp decline in hog production followed.

What Kind Of Lime for Quick Profit?

On most Cornbelt soils, the addition of limestone is absolutely essential for good crop yields. Money invested in lime can start making you more profit years earlier, if you are careful in choosing the kind of lime to add to soils.

The key lies in the size of the lime particles, reports Successful Farming magazine. Fine particles of lime dissolve and sweeten the soil surrounding them much faster than coarse particles.

Fine particles expose more lime surfaces which come in contact with more soil. The faster soil acidity is corrected, the faster crop yields go up, and the payoff starts.

In average-grain lime, only about 600 pounds in every ton is ready to go to work. The remaining 1,400 pounds will gradually break down, but after three years, 40 per cent still will not have broken down. Farmers use this kind of lime, and coarser, largely because ag lime is available as a by-product of the road stone business.

HOWEVER, the magazine reports there are quarries producing good, fine-grain lime. When screened, only three per cent of fine-grain lime stays on a No. 8 sieve, as compared to the 10 per cent of "average" limestone that will not go through the same screen.

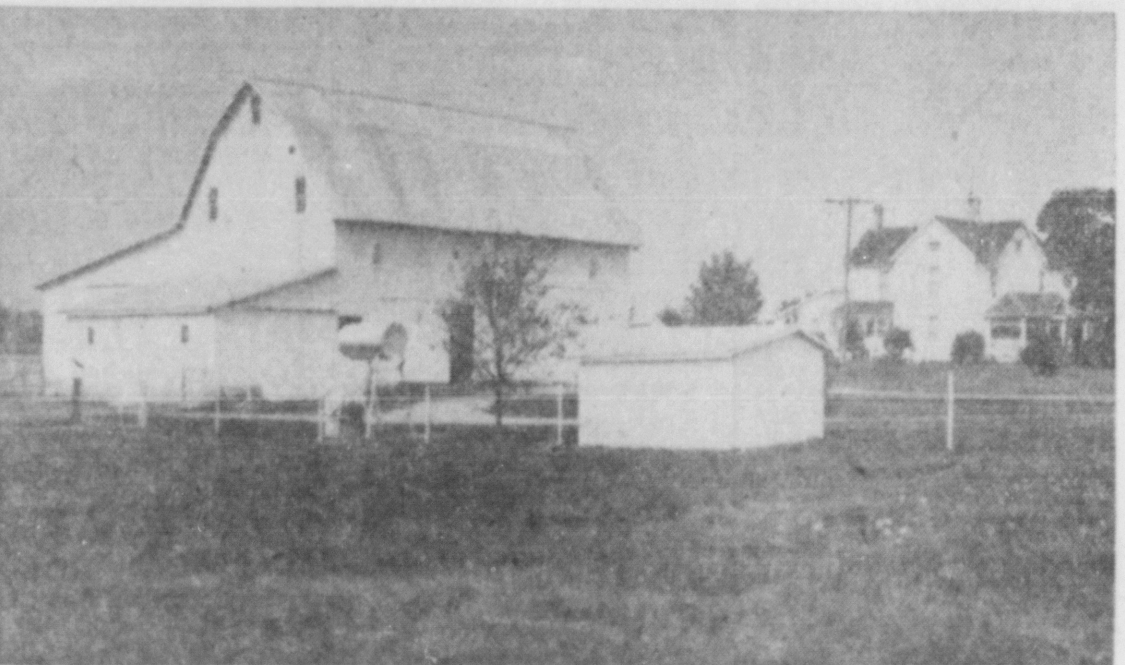

Just three tons of this fine lime will give the same result as four tons of average lime, and the quarries that sell it usually sell it for the same price as for coarse lime.

Shop around and get the specifications before you buy lime, the magazine suggests. Look for 97-100 per cent through a No. 8 screen.

Clark Coe Farm Stresses Neatness

A PROMINENT Jefferson Township farmer, Coe was moving a wheelbarrow load of milk cans from the road to his milk house when this picture was snapped.

CLARK W. COE near Jeffersonville, is a firm believer in all-white farm buildings with everything in its place and no unsightly objects to mar the general attractiveness of his homestead. His farm layout, shown here, never fails to attract attention.

There are a great many attractive farms and farm homes in Fayette County. One of these is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Coe, on the Fent Rd., a short distance south of State Route 734 and a mile southwest of Jeffersonville.

Coe owns 310 acres of choice land on both sides of Fent Rd., and right now he is troubled because one of the tentative routes of the four-lane freeway projected across Fayette County would cross his farm diagonally for a full mile.

WHEN COE moved to the farm from Jeffersonville in 1906, 132 acres of his present farm was owned by his uncle, Frank Coe, and the only house on the farm was a log structure which stood back

If you can locate screens, pick up some lime samples, screen and weigh them yourself. You should also be able to look at the laboratory report on samples from all the quarries in your state at the local A. S. C.

WHILE LOOKING at the lab reports, check the purity of the lime you buy. It is reported as calcium carbonate equivalent—or, how the sample compares with pure calcium carbonate.

Soil test recommendations are usually based on lime of 90 or higher. The impurities in low-quality lime, especially clay, are seldom worth the price to you.

It costs no more to haul and spread high quality lime.

of the present attractive two-story frame house, built in 1910 by Frank Coe.

At the death of his uncle Clark Coe came into possession of the farm, and later purchased an adjoining farm.

Incidentally when he first moved there, Fent Rd. was little more than a mud road, quite different from the present modern highway.

All buildings on the farm are white. In many cases a barn is a different color from the house, but to make his place attractive, Coe used white paint unsparingly.

In addition to all buildings and the fences about them being white, Coe keeps his premises free of "clutter" and unsightly objects.

His entire farm reflects good care and is rated as highly improved.

THIS YEAR Coe raised 125 acres of corn, or rather his three sons did the farming.

The Coes do not raise soybeans, but raise large numbers of hogs, and at present they are feeding 450 spring pigs which are rapidly making hogs of themselves and will be ready for market in January and February.

The corn this year averaged 75 bushels or more per acre.

Their hogs are chiefly Hampshires and Durocs, and all the feed grown on the farm is used in fattening the hogs.

The sons are Frank E. and Leonard at home, and Rodger, who lives a short distance from the home of his father, but on the same farm.

The three sons are deeply interested in high class hybrid corn, and Frank has four times been state winner in the classes in which he has shown. Leonard and Rodger also have won high honors in some of the shows.

All are progressive farmers who have spent much time studying farm problems and using approved methods in farming.

The father assists in whatever work is necessary, but because of his age, is "easing off" somewhat.

Recent USDA experiments show that rats may be carriers of atrophic rhinitis—a serious disease affecting the nose structure of swine and common; called "crooked snout." Cats and rabbits are often carriers of the troublesome disease, too.

Corn Borer Population Down Slightly in Ohio

COLUMBUS—The corn borer population in Ohio is down a little from a year ago, but borers still are a problem and cost Ohio farmers nearly 1½ million dollars this year.

D. Lyle Goleman, Ohio State University extension entomologist, makes these observations following a corn borer survey of 300 Ohio fields this fall. The survey was conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The survey, Goleman says, showed an average of 35.1 borers for each 100 plants. That's about one-third borer per plant, compared to 53.3 borers for each 100 plants, or one-half borer per plant, in 1956.

Figuring this year's crop loss from corn borers at 1,294,558 bushels (based on 2 per cent loss per borer per stalk) and price at $1.13 a bushel, borers destroyed $1,462,850 worth of corn for Ohio farmers this year, Goleman estimates. This compares to a loss last year of more than 2½ million dollars.

BORERS were more prevalent in Northwest Ohio than elsewhere in

The Proposed County Charter Amendment

One of the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted upon at the coming election Nov. 5, is commanding considerable attention; especially have some of the League Women Voters organizations in a number of counties shown interest in approving this amendment.

The amendment's purpose is primarily to make it easier to permit counties to have home rule charters. It is worded in rather complex fashion and is somewhat difficult for the average layman to understand. It reads as follows:

"Shall the proposed amendment of Section 3 of Article X of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to provide that the electors of a county may approve by majority vote a county charter changing the form of county government and granting it powers concurrent with those of municipalities and may in counties having a population over 500,000 approve a charter providing for exclusive exercise of municipal powers by the county with a majority of those voting in the largest municipality and in the county outside such a municipality, be adopted?"

Ohioans long ago took the initiative in pressing toward new frontiers in community government. In 1933 a majority of Ohio voters approved a constitutional provision which allowed county governments to perform specific functions of municipal governments—e.g., supervision of county wide sewer districts or countywide police and fire divisions. However, every attempt to create a "metro" government in Ohio counties has failed. Sponsors found that too many special interest blocs can, by majority vote, veto their plans.

Many Ohio cities have home rule charters, but not one of the eighty-eight Ohio counties does.

Ohio counties must operate under the general laws of the state, and these laws give them no local lawmaking powers.

Acceptance of this proposed amendment would give permission only for a county to have such a charter. The method by which a particular county would actually get its charter is already in the constitution, Article X, Section 4. This section provides that electorate must vote for a commission to write such a charter, and, at a later election, vote whether or not to accept the charter written by that commission.

What's Going On in Russia?

By George Sokolsky

Under the Soviet system of democratic centralism, which is how the Russians describe their government, it is impossible to have a dual leadership.

This was evident when Trotsky and Stalin were vying for the top leadership; it appeared in the various efforts of Zinoviev and Kamenev to match Stalin's authority; it reappeared when Stalin died and Malenkov and Khrushchev contested for authority; and when Zhukov asserted a position of dual leadership, he too failed.

Whoever heads the Russian Communist party is the head of the Russian state and of the Communist party throughout the world. That man is Nikita Khrushchev.

When an effort was made in the United States to give the impression that Marshal Zhukov was really the top man and would replace Khrushchev and was factually the more important man, it gave convincing evidence that those in high places in the American government did not at all understand Russia, and therefore the situation between the two countries is hopeless.

If the State Department and the C.I.A. preferred Zhukov to Khrushchev, they based their judgment on misinformation or on correct information incorrectly evaluated. Only those in control of the Communist party control Soviet Russia.

There are 40 years of knowledge and experience in our relations with Soviet Russia and that is long enough for mature men to recognize a pattern of activities and attitudes which is clear-cut and understandable. What the Russians have is a government which is held in tutelage by a political party and the party itself is controlled by the Presidium of the party which is itself controlled by one man, that one man now being Nikita Khrushchev. Each people develops a government according to its own character and traditions.

The fear of Napoleonism is very strong among the Communists. Whether it affects the younger people, I do not know. But it was this fear that destroyed the career of Leon Trotsky, who organized the Red army and who at one period of the revolution was its most attractive figure, even more attractive personally than Lenin.

Nevertheless, Trotsky was destroyed politically by a crude, unattractive personality, Stalin. It might be said that one reason for Trotsky's failure was that he was of Jewish origin, although as a Marxist Social Democrat he practiced no religion.

I think that that explanation is far-fetched; surely in the early years of the revolution there were no evidences of anti-Semitism. That came later when Stalin needed it for his own purposes.

It was the fear of Napoleonism that broke Trotsky. Napoleonism means the conquest of a revolution by a military dictatorship. It was the fear of Napoleonism that made it possible for Stalin to reduce Zhukov immediately after World War II in which Zhukov played a role which the Russians have regarded as equal to Eisenhower's. We made a popular hero of Eisenhower; Stalin sent Zhukov to the sticks.

Whether that is Khrushchev's intention or whether he means to keep Zhukov in Moscow, we shall not know until the Tass Agency issues a cold statement announcing what has happened. It could be that Khrushchev will make Zhukov the head of a company making electric razors which happened to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, or the principal of a school which happened to Gen. Mark Clark or a manufacturer of tin cans which is what became of Gen. Lucius Clay.

But whatever it is, it will be the Presidium of the Communist party which will do the making.

There must be a greater political upheaval in the Communist world than we can recognize at this distance. All the foreign correspondents in Moscow have not described this upheaval for us, but the evidence of change, dissent, disagreement, anger, quarrels, appears in the course of events.

I would like to venture a guess as to what it is all about. I have a feeling that time will bear me out. My guess is that the basic disagreement among Soviet officials is over the question as to whether the war scare blackmail should be continued against the United States and what are the risks.

My further guess is that some day a large number of military men will be purged on the ground that they are pro-American or anti-Arab.

You May Help Doctor Locate Sinus Trouble

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

SINUS trouble can be very painful, as anyone who has had it well knows. Yet, the very fact that it is painful, often helps a doctor determine just where the basic trouble lies.

You sensitivity to pain helps greatly in diagnosing the specific area infected.

Now I don't want you diagnosing your own troubles and illnesses, but you can borrow a trick from the doctor and get an indication in what area your sinuses are acting up so that you can tell him about it.

Press your thumbs against both of your cheeks. Use equal force.

If, say the right cheek registers a dull pain, it might mean there's an infection of the right antrum or cavity. Pain in the left cheek could mean trouble in the left antrum.

Using the same method, apply pressure to your forehead over your eyes and then under the overhang of your eyebrows near your nose. If you notice a tenderness at any of these points, it could mean the frontal sinuses are infected.

This method, of course, isn't sure-fire. It merely narrows the search for the doctor.

He might be able to confirm his diagnosis by using a transillumination method.

In this procedure, he literally "lights up your head" by using a flashlight.

To detect any difference in opacity, he puts a small flashlight into your mouth. If your frontal sinuses are normal, they'll light up, with a pinkish glow.

The light makes the pupils of your eyes glow if the maxillary or antra sinuses are empty and transparent. If one sinus isn't transparent, it's likely to be infected and filled with pus.

Of course this method is no help in detecting trouble in the ethmoid cells and sphenoid sinuses. To find any trouble which might be lurking there—and sometimes in the frontal sinuses too—your doctor probably

Even Irish Washer-Woman Can Hobnob with a Queen

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
If fate makes you a washer woman, plunge into those suds with pride and you may end up hobnobbing with a queen.

Such things can happen, and did, says Homer Croy, the tall, twinkling novelist from Missouri, biographer of Will Rogers and Jesse James, whose latest best-seller, "The Lady from Colorado," will be aired on Broadway next season, with Ethel Merman playing the role of Katie Lawder, the Irish washer-woman who captivated a Colorado mining camp and became the fabled Lady Moon first titled lady of the gold-rush country.

"It all goes to prove that truth is much more fantastic than fiction," says Croy, "and also much more fun. Here's Ethel Merman, a modern real-life lady from Colorado, all set to bring Lady Katie Moon back to uproarious life. And she's the gal who can do it."

Croy was intent on research for a biography of Sitting Bull when he stumbled on the story of Lady Moon while poking around Denver a couple of years ago. He found the story of the titled washer-woman so much more dramatic than that of the Indian warrior that he left Sitting Bull cold and began delving into the story of Katie, Lady Moon, whose grave is in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Denver.

"I first wrote it as a factual biography," says Croy, "after piecing together the story from friends, relatives and former servants of the fabulous Katie. When I sent the completed manuscript to my publishers, they said yes, it was very interesting, and they would publish it. But they didn't invite me to lunch. So I knew something was wrong."

"I took the manuscript back and started all over again, using the facts of Lady Moon's life as the basis for a novel. This time when I finished, the publishers called up right away and said, 'Let's have lunch and talk about it.' So I knew

ATTENTION VOTERS OF FAYETTE COUNTY

LEONARD E. (BILL) ALLEN

I would like to acquaint myself and express my views, to the many, many people I haven't had the opportunity to meet, and discuss my views, for the Fayette County School Board, for which I am a candidate.

I was born in Bookwalter in 1916, attended grade school there, and graduated from Jeffersonville High School in 1934. Have one year of Agricultural engineering from La Salle University, worked for the Sedalia Grain and Lumber Co., also worked at Frigidaire, and started farming in Fayette County in 1939, which is my present occupation. I have resided on the Routsen Farm (16 years), West Lancaster Road, 3 miles from Jeffersonville. I am a member of the Congregational Christian Church, a Knights of Pythias Lodge member, Past Chancellor, Financial Secretary and Co. Deputy, also a Knights of Pythias committeeman, which works with the Lions Club on a community betterment fund for Children's Christmas fund and needy families.

Honorary member of the Jefferson Chapter FFA and one of the directors of the Shepherds Club. Belong to the Farm Bureau and the Fayette County Producers, also a member of the Purebred Black Angus and Suffolk Sheep Ass'n.

Now for my personal commitments on this issue. Having always been interested in school problems, I represent ALL the people of Fayette County who can sit down level headed and discuss and ACCOMPLISH what has to be done, pertaining to this issue.

I feel the men that signed the petition, making me a candidate for Fayette County School Board, are of the highest caliber in my community.

The many, many people I have contacted, feel, that it's time for a change, in hopes that this matter is straightened out once and for all. As you may know, the school dispute has been discussed throughout our state. It would be a poor excuse for a parent who would not want the best schools possible, and best facilities for their children's education.

As Abraham Lincoln once said, I quote "Government of the people, by the people, for the people."

I pledge all my efforts to the best of my ability—that all issues confronting the Fayette County Board will be met and dealt with the children and adults in mind, and with no personal gain. I feel I am capable of filling this position and can help restore respect and harmony in our Fayette County. Your vote on Nov. 5 will be deeply appreciated.

Pennington Plant Gets First Flour

One of four giant metal storage bins, part of an intricate automatic flour-handling system at the new million-dollar Pennington bakery on Clinton Ave., were filled this week as the company speeded plans to meet a Nov. 11 target date for the first "test baking."

Each of the bins, (picture at left) will hold 100,000 pounds of flour—the quantity transported in a new type of sealed railroad car which makes bulk shipments possible.

Morgan B. Pennington, Cincinnati, president of the firm, was on hand to watch the first car of flour unloaded.

Regarded as the most modern equipment in the baking industry, the four storage bins will provide an eight-day supply of flour for the new baking plant. The flour will not be touched by human hands from the time it is put into the freight car until it is thoroughly mixed as dough inside the new bakery.

THE FLOUR is handled at all times by air pressure. Once the special car arrives on the siding, four-inch metal tubes are attached to its sides and 13 pounds of air pressure blows flour from the car into the storage bin 20 feet higher than the car.

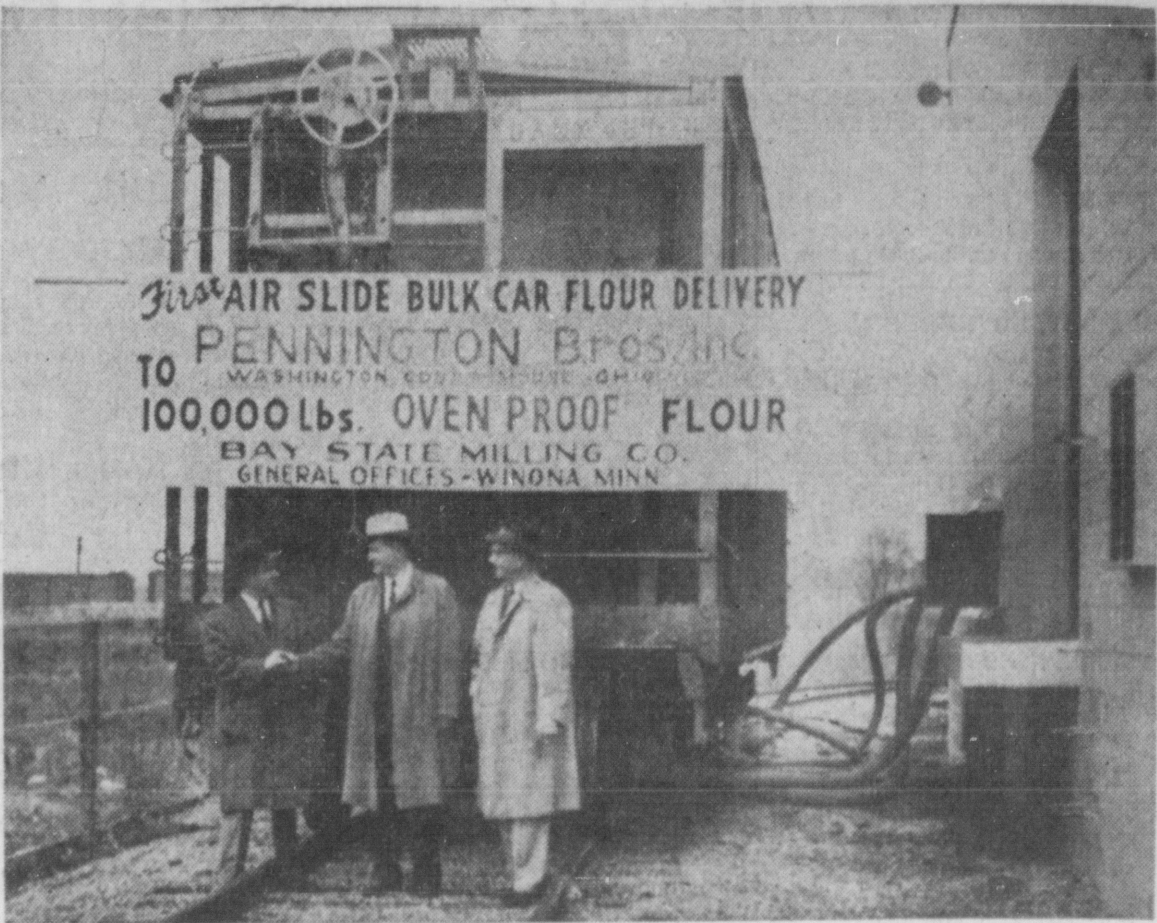

An automatic sifting machine, immediately behind the four bins, takes the flour from the bins, sifts it through 50-mesh screen and moves it, again by air pressure, to the mixing room 120 feet from the storage area. The sifting machine operates from an electrical system controlled from the mixing room.

Each bin may be filled, or each freight car unloaded, in four hours.

Attending the inauguration of the new storage facilities at the Pennington plant were a number of representatives of the baking industry.

Shown congratulating Pennington (left in the picture at right) is Paul Miner, vice president in charge of sales of the Bay State Milling Co., suppliers of the first flour used in the bins. At right in the picture is Howard G. Wright, vice president of the Pennington Baking Co. and general manager of the Washington C. H. Plant.

The longest ride, without changing trains, on New York subways is 26 miles.

Letter to the Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Since I withdrew my petition as a candidate for the Miami Trace School Board, I have been repeatedly asked why.

From all the information I was able to find, and from the minutes of the records of the Miami Trace Board, it was noted that there should have been three to be elected this November.

But by some means not real clear to me as of yet, and not clear to Mr. Cowdery at the time of filing petition, because he obtained his petition, and had it signed by the required number of signers, which was quite a bit of trouble, at the final filing date it was noted that Mr. Cowdery did not have to file but could still be retained as a board member for two more years and not have to gamble at the election.

After careful consideration I felt it was best that I should withdraw and leave the two openings to Mr. Hagler and Mr. Agle with all my support and best wishes.

Just recently I received a letter through the mail in regards to who should be given support to the County Board, Mr. Avey, Mr. Hoppes and Mr. Lightle.

I am not in favor of anyone who is in sympathy with such a disgusting uncooperative bunch as the County Citizens Committee has been. It looks like just once they could sit down and discuss something intelligently with a little understanding for the other three members viewpoints.

No problem as large and complex as the school problem in Fayette County can be solved without being broad minded enough to listen to the other fellows' views and thoughts.

I think Mr. Babb, Mr. Allen and Mr. Schlichter are broad minded and should be given full support at the election.

I believe they will give the people what they want with due consideration for all. They are broad minded and will not promise one thing then do just the opposite as some have done in the past.

Let's all go to the polls Tuesday and start the way to better schools for Fayette County.

CLEVELAND (AP)—A medical school dean believes that "a serious scandal" may soon develop if medical schools don't do more to meet the increasing health problems of older people.

Dr. Chauncey D. Drake, assistant medical school dean at Ohio State University, says that medical schools "have the prime responsibility in preparing their graduates for a tremendous jump in geriatric practice."

"Unless this responsibility is promptly met, there may come a serious scandal in medical affairs which could adversely affect the high esteem in which people hold the medical profession."

Potluck Supper Enjoyed by White Shrine

Mrs. Chris Dutsch, Tulsa, Okla., supreme worthy high priestess of the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, and Mrs. Helen Louise Patty, supreme queen, of Greenville, were the honor guests of Ralph Kah Shrine No. 60, Order of White Shrine, at a potluck supper and informal meeting held in the American Legion Home Thursday evening. Mr. C. Dutsch was also a guest.

The tables were beautifully decorated with white table cloths and place mats, yellow candles and centered with cornucopias attractively arranged with yellow mums. Yellow and white are the colors of White Shrine.

Mrs. Dutsch presented informal instructions on Shrine work and gave a number of examples of the use being made of the Material Objective Fund. This fund is a voluntary contribution of the members to assist unfortunate persons needing aid who cannot secure it from civic or charitable sources. Assistance is given without regard to race, creed or sect.

Mrs. Dutsch also gave a very amusing monologue.
On the committee for this event were Mrs. Elmer Reed, chairman, Mrs. Helen Dunton, Mrs. L. M. Hayes and Mrs. Howard Mace.

Garb of Women On TV Rapped

Singer Says Many Look Like Bean Sack

NEW YORK (AP)—Many women television performers "are trying so hard to look natural that they come out looking like a sack of beans."

That's not this department talking. It's singer Jane Morgan, who is blonde and beautiful and does not look at all like a sack of beans. Maintaining a position of solid male neutrality on the subject of women's clothing, we merely report what Miss Morgan tells us:

"Too many women performers are forgetting they should be show business personalities. They come on camera wearing dresses that any self-respecting housewife wouldn't wear to the grocery store."

Still quoting Miss Morgan, who makes many TV guest appearances besides producing hit records and playing night clubs:

"These women are supposed to represent the chic and glamor of dollars and wear only one cheap America to the world—and look at them. They make thousands of dollars and wear only one cheap dress in a half-hour show. In night club performances women go to great pains and expense to create variety of costumes in a half-hour performance. Personally I spend $1,000 apiece for gowns when I'm playing clubs."

"People expect and deserve to see glamor in their performers. But on television women aren't glamorous any more; they're merely casual. The American viewing public is getting gypped and it doesn't like it."

The Rev. L. J. Poe will assist with the program.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Elmer Johnson, Sabina, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Wilmington, were Friday guests of Mrs. Charles Briggs and son, Marilyn, Jeffersonville.

Only in recent years have rural communities, such as ours, been privileged to have modern, local hospital service... the Federal-Funds-For-Rural-Hospitals program was started primarily because of the growing needs of farm families.

Last year farm accidents ranked third in the nation! Mining accidents were 1st; construction, 2nd. Farm accidents killed 12,800 and injured 1,050,000!

Which Platform?

One of the three opposition candidates for County School Board in the October 30th Record-Herald, in effect, expressed deep disappointment in the Miami Trace district, BECAUSE IT HAD NOT JOINED THE WASHINGTON C. H. CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT, or conversely, because the City has failed to take over Miami Trace in spite of repeated attempts for a long while.

The same candidate, along with another former local board member, offered assistance to the Sam Marting attorneys to destroy Miami Trace. This same candidate, JOINED WITH THE OTHER TWO OPPOSITION CANDIDATES, recently announced "A NEW ADMINISTRATION & ACADEMIC FREEDOM" as their platform.

WHICH ONE OF THE TWO PLATFORMS DOES HE NOW CLAIM?

1. EITHER, "A New Administration & Academic Freedom" for Miami Trace.

2. OR, "A New Administration & Academic Freedom" by joining Miami Trace to the City and be managed by the City Board and its Superintendent.

Is it not an attempt to embrace both announcements?

Is it not true that either or both are definitely AGAINST MIAMI TRACE?

Potluck Supper Enjoyed by White Shrine

Mrs. Chris Dutsch, Tulsa, Okla., supreme worthy high priestess of the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, and Mrs. Helen Louise Patty, supreme queen, of Greenville, were the honor guests of Ralph Kah Shrine No. 60, Order of White Shrine, at a potluck supper and informal meeting held in the American Legion Home Thursday evening. Mr. C. Dutsch was also a guest.

The tables were beautifully decorated with white table cloths and placed mats, yellow candles and centered with cornucopias attractively arranged with yellow mums. Yellow and white are the colors of White Shrine.

Mrs. Dutsch presented informal instructions on Shrine work and gave a number of examples of the use being made of the Material Objective Fund. This fund is a voluntary contribution of the members to assist unfortunate persons needing aid who cannot secure it from civic or charitable sources. Assistance is given without regard to race, creed or sect.

Mrs. Dutsch also gave a very amusing monologue.

On the committee for this event were Mrs. Elmer Reed, chairman, Mrs. Helen Dunton, Mrs. L. M. Hayes and Mrs. Howard Mace.

Garb of Women On TV Rapped

Singer Says Many Look Like Bean Sack

NEW YORK (AP)—Many women television performers "are trying so hard to look natural that they come out looking like a sack of beans."

That's not this department talking. It's singer Jane Morgan, who is blonde and beautiful and does not look at all like a sack of beans. Maintaining a position of solid male neutrality on the subject of women's clothing, we merely report what Miss Morgan tells us:

"Too many women performers are forgetting they should be show business personalities. They come on camera wearing dresses that any self-respecting housewife wouldn't wear to the grocery store."

Still quoting Miss Morgan, who makes many TV guest appearances besides producing hit records and playing night clubs:

"These women are supposed to represent the chic and glamor of dollars and wear only one cheap America to the world—and look at them. They make thousands of dollars and wear only one cheap dress in a half-hour show. In night club performances women go to great pains and expense to create variety of costume in a half-hour performance. Personally I spend $1,000 apiece for gowns when I'm playing clubs."

"People expect and deserve to see glamor in their performers. But on television women aren't glamorous any more; they're merely casual. The American viewing public is getting gypped and it doesn't like it."

Important To All Of Us...
Provides SPECIAL COMFORT
To Farm Families

Only in recent years have rural communities, such as ours, been privileged to have modern, local hospital service... the Federal-Funds-For-Rural-Hospitals program was started primarily because of the growing needs of farm families.

Last year farm accidents ranked third in the nation! Mining accidents were 1st; construction, 2nd. Farm accidents killed 12,800 and injured 1,050,000!

Yes, local hospital care is important to all of us... and provides SPECIAL COMFORT to farm families.

Which Platform?

One of the three opposition candidates for County School Board in the October 30th Record-Herald, in effect, expressed deep disappointment in the Miami Trace district, BECAUSE IT HAD NOT JOINED THE WASHINGTON C. H. CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT, or conversely, because the City has failed to take over Miami Trace in spite of repeated attempts for a long while.

The same candidate, along with another former local board member, offered assistance to the Sam Marting attorneys to destroy Miami Trace. This same candidate, JOINED WITH THE OTHER TWO OPPOSITION CANDIDATES, recently announced "A NEW ADMINISTRATION & ACADEMIC FREEDOM" as their platform.

WHICH ONE OF THE TWO PLATFORMS DOES HE NOW CLAIM?

1. EITHER, "A New Administration & Academic Freedom" for Miami Trace.

2. OR, "A New Administration & Academic Freedom" by joining Miami Trace to the City and be managed by the City Board and its Superintendent.

Is it not an attempt to embrace both announcements?

Is it not true that either or both are definitely AGAINST MIAMI TRACE?

CANDIDATES FOR ELECTION TO THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Harmony and Friendship in Fayette County can never be restored so long as there is a continued effort to choose up sides for a knock down, drag out fight on school problems. We are sick of this.

We Three Candidates Have Been Sincere In TRYING To Avoid A Repetition Of The Old Hassle

You have read paid ads by our opponents, over their signatures and over the signatures of some who are not even running for office, attempting to bait us into arguments and more bitterness. We want no part of this - this situation is too serious - too much is at stake for our children and ourselves.

MAY WE PRESENT OUR VIEWS ON THE ISSUES?

The Miami Trace School District is an established fact. We voted for it and certainly have no intention of destroying it, for the sake of our own children's education.

THE REAL ISSUE IS THIS - When we were asked to vote for rural consolidation we were promised better education and greater economy of operation. No better education than we formerly had has been forthcoming, only more confusion. Rather than increased economy under the present administration. COSTS HAVE BEEN INCREASED

A 67% INCREASE In school taxes has been requested and even county board costs are up 36%.

If we three are elected, as a voting majority on the County Board of Education, we will sincerely do everything in our power to work toward a better school system for our children and yours - to give you sound businesslike administration with economy of operation and hold the brakes on unnecessary taxes.

The approval, by the majority of Fayette County voters, of the Miami Trace Building Bond issue is an established fact. There will be new schools built and others modernized regardless of who is elected.

THE REAL ISSUE IS The wise expenditure of funds to see our children have the best education for the money already voted. It is not too late for a study of our school needs by a competent group of men in the field of education who can show us the best way to build for better education for years to come.

If the present proposed building program is sound a study will show this to be true. If some alterations are in the best interest then we should know it before we start to spend. Such a study has been blocked by the present school administration.

The Miami Trace Board of Education, the Washington Board of Education and the County Superintendent (under oath), on February 6th of this year, stood in Fayette County Probate Court and promised to recommend and support a joint study of Fayette County School needs. This study was to be conducted by a competent, professional survey team. Nine months of valuable time have passed.

A Citizens Committee, representing the three boards of education, have interviewed representatives of the finest survey agencies in the state. Every motion to recommend the employment of any of these agencies was Voted Down 6 to 3 by the six members representing the Miami Trace and Fayette County Boards of Education.

WE ARE IN FAVOR OF A SURVEY - Let's know where we are going. If elected we will work to that end and appoint men and women to represent you on committees who can think for themselves and will unselfishly promote the best interests of all Rural Fayette County children and adults alike.

By JACK AYER
It wasn't quite as easy as it started out to be, but the Washington C. H. High School football Lions evened their 1957 performance record and settled an old debt at the same time Friday night by trouncing Hilliards High School, 26-13, on the Franklin County squad's home field.

The Lions scored three touchdowns in the first period. But the hosts who dropped the Lions 33-13

Detroit's Pro Gridders Set For Frisco Tilt

Lions To Do Battle On Heels of Reports Of Team 'Dissension'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Detroit Lions get into action for the first time since "dissension" charges came into the open when they invade San Francisco Sunday.

The Lions, a disappointment in the National Football League race so far, are said to be annoyed at Leon Hart for his performances to date. Officials of the team have denied that there is any unrest.

The 49ers lost their opener, then came on to win their next four. Last Sunday, they barely nipped the Chicago Bears 21-17.

The Lions currently are tied for second place in the western section with the Baltimore Orioles, each with a 3-2 mark.

A victory for the Lions over the 49ers, therefore, would pull them into a first-place tie, and in the process go a long way toward eliminating the Hart controversy.

The Colts will have something to say about the western division lead, too. If they polish off the Pittsburgh Steelers while Detroit is defeating San Francisco, then a three-way tie for the top would ensue. San Francisco, Detroit and Baltimore all would have 4-2 marks.

In the Eastern Division, the Cleveland Browns, who took over undisputed possession of first place last Sunday, go against the Washington Redskins. On the face of it, the Browns should have no particular trouble, for the Redskins have won only two games while losing three.

The Giants tangle with the Green Bay Packers in Green Bay, the Los Angeles Rams entertain the Chicago Bears and the Chicago Cardinals are at home to the Philadelphia Eagles in their NFL action Sunday.

In five games, Tommy O'Connell, the Browns' first-line quarterback, has completed 57 per cent of his aerials—a respectable percentage. But he has thrown only 47, and of 30 other attempts by Browns, Milt Plum has 24 with 10 completed for a percentage of 42.

A total of 77 passes in five games compares with what the great Otto Graham used to fling in as few as two contests.

This slighting of the aerial game has meant that the enemy has jammed up on the Browns' running. To loosen up opposing defenses Coach Brown would like a passing attack that would command respect.

Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was translated into 23 languages.

RELATED TO the penalty rash, is the game's other claim to fame: the fact that it was the contest in which Roger McLean ran 49 yards on a fourth down play, only to miss making a first down.

All that happened in the third quarter after the Lions had lost 10 yards on bungled offense and 30 yards more on a pair of clipping charges. McLean, plunging off the tackle, carried the ball just two feet short of the needed 50 yards.

Still sore about that game a year ago, the WHS squad wasted a minimum of time in showing Hilliards fans what they were there for. Right End Jack Wilson caught a pass in the end zone for the first TD after just two short minutes of play.

The pass, a 20-yarder from Bud-ling, marked one of the shortest touchdown drives in recent memory hereabouts. It was made on the eighth play of the game, three of which were run by Hilliards.

*****

HALFBACK Bill Herman and Fullback Gil Crouse, working with Alphonse-and-Gaston regularity, set things up for the second TD just a few moments later. Starting from the Lion 45, Herman and Crouse marched the ball down to the five, where the two teams exchanged fumbles before Kenny Evans got a chance to carry over.

Dick Anders' place kick was a good one that one, and it put the Lions on top, 13-0.

Evans almost scored another touchdown five plays later when he parlayed his team's classy reverse play into a 30-yard run per se. The play was called back on a penalty. And the Lions had to wait an additional five minutes before scoring a third time.

Herman did the honors on that third one, after Lynch set things up with a 16-yard pass to Anders on the four.

*****

WITH MEMORIES of one unsuccessful touchdown run already dancing in his head, Kenny Evans got what must have been the most heartbreaking twist of the ball game just after the quarter change.

Knocking off tacklers as if they were flies, Kenny traveled 63 yards down the sidelines for what appeared to be the fourth touchdown run of the game. It wasn't the officials said. Evans was declared out of bounds after the first seven yards.

Taking advantage of a little understandable Lion cockiness, the Hilliards squad scored just before the half ended on an eight-yard run by Halfback Dick Murdoch. End Bob Ebright had started the drive on the 35-yard line by intercepting a pass from Lynch.

*****

THE LION last score came in the fourth quarter just after McLean's come-out 49-yard run. Pushed back to the Hilliards 33, the visitors used a pass from Lynch to Anders and a nine-yard run by Herman to score once more. Jim Wilson got off a good kick while Jack Anders nursed a sore leg. The score stood 26-6.

Hilliards got its only other tally just before the end of the game, with Roger Pritchard kicking the point as the clock showed one second left to play.

Dick Harrison scored the futile touchdown on the business end of a pass from quarterback Harold Evans.

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Youthful Rod Emerson, playing in his first major Australian tournament, won the Queensland Tennis Championship today by crushing Neale Fraser 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Emerson, who had been seeded fifth, thus stamped himself as a likely member of the Aussie Davis Cup squad in the challenge round next month.

Miss Cash, a junior in the College of Education, was selected Friday night from among five finalists chosen in campus-wide voting Wednesday.

A pert junior majoring in elementary education, she will be presented to Ohio Stadium spectators during halftime ceremonies of today's game.

Bloomington Bulldogs Win Cage Openers

Bloomington High School's fast and handy Bulldogs out-fought and out-manuevered a towering bunch of cagers from Simon Kenton High School at Lees Creek to win their first game of the basketball season by a convincing 51 to 37 score Friday night on their home floor.

The varsity victory followed a thriller in which the Bloomington Bulldogs reserves nipped the Lees Creek reserves, 32 to 31, despite the absence of four boys with flu.

The Bulldogs, at a big height disadvantage, made precision teamwork and timing count. Don Hidy got seven field goals from just about as many angles and distances. Riley, who also hit for 14 points, got his on the end of a fast break.

The Bulldogs used a zone defense through the entire game to keep their lanky visitors from getting those close-in shots.

The Simon Kentons used a man-to-man defense, but could not keep up with the quick shifts of the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs play their next game Tuesday night at Scioto High School in Pickaway County.

Mikan Still Seeks Win with Lakers

NEW YORK (AP)—Big George Mikan is finding out that there's a big difference between coaching and playing.

He was the toast of Minneapolis when he was pouring in points for the Lakers from a pivot post.

As coach of the NBA club now, he can't find a winning combination. Friday night, the Lakers lost their third game of the season without a triumph.

They were defeated by the Syracuse Nationals, 113-100.

In the other NBA game Friday night, the Cincinnati Royals survived a shaky first half and went on to whip the St. Louis Hawks, 99-92.

PICTON, Ont. (AP)—A slim mahogany-and-orange hydro-plane driven by a wartime bomber pilot has captured for Canada the world's propeller-driven speedboat record.

Defense Tells Story for 2 College Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Defensive play, generally a weak sister behind offensive emphasis, told the story again Friday night, this time for Miami (Fla.) and Boston U.

Miami three times stiffened and held Villanova within the 20 while coming from behind for a 13-7 victory. And Boston U., slowed down by rain, mud and George Washington defenses, finally turned a blocked punt into a 7-0 decision over the Colonials.

Miami, a two-touchdown favorite despite the loss of hard-running John Varone through injury, looked the part. In the end, it was the Hurricane defense and a penalty against the over-eager Wildcats that brought Miami a 3-2-1 record.

Joe Plevel was the leading gainer, picking up 100 yards on eight carries—one an 80-yard scorer.

The big-gainer in the Boston U. George Washington game was the blocked punt, which netted the Terriers 37 yards. Guard Steve McGowan broke through to smash the kick and the ball bounced back to the GW 6 before Terrier tackle Ed Paulauskas sprawled on it.

New Holland Wins Opener From Madison

New Holland's Bulldogs, sparked by John Lininger, won their season's basketball opener, 57 to 31 Friday night on their own floor, from the Madison Mills Warriors.

But the Madison Mills reserves won the opener, 26 to 22. King and Conley, who spearheaded the Madison Mills attack, accounted for half of their team's 26 points.

Bochard, with 12 points, led the New Holland offense and turned in the high individual score.

Lininger was the big difference in the varsity game. He accounted for 27 points on 10 field goals were from under the basket where he could take advantage of his 6-1 height, but he also was an important cog in the Bulldog floor maneuvers.

The Warriors, using a fast break much of the time, got nearly all of their field goals from close in.

To throw the Warrior defense off balance, Garrison got three field goals from the side and Speakman got four from out in front.

The Warriors will play their next game with the Adams Township team from Clinton County on the Bloomington floor Nov. 9. The Warriors are playing most of their "home" games at Bloomington and Good Hope this year.

The Bulldogs will play their next game Friday on their own court with Scioto.

By JACK AYER
It wasn't quite as easy as it started out to be, but the Washington C. H. High School football Lions evened their 1957 performance record and settled an old debt at the same time Friday night by trouncing Hilliards High School, 26-13, on the Franklin County square home field.

Detroit's Pro Gridders Set For Frisco Tilt

Lions To Do Battle On Heels of Reports Of Team 'Dissension'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Detroit Lions get into action for the first time since "dissension" charges came into the open when they invade San Francisco Sunday.

The Lions, a disappointment in the National Football League race so far, are said to be annoyed at Leon Hart for his performances to date. Officials of the team have denied that there is any unrest.

The 49ers lost their opener, then came on to win their next four. Last Sunday, they barely noted the Chicago Bears 21-17. The Lions currently are tied for second place in the western section with the Baltimore Orioles, each with a 3-2 mark.

A victory for the Lions over the 49ers, therefore, would pull them into a first-place tie, and in the process go a long way toward eliminating the Hart controversy.

The Colts will have something to say about the western division lead, too. If they polish off the Pittsburgh Steelers while Detroit is defeating San Francisco, then a three-way tie for the top would ensue. San Francisco, Detroit and Baltimore all would have 4-2 marks.

In the Eastern Division, the Cleveland Browns, who took over undisputed possession of first place last Sunday, go against the Washington Redskins. On the face of it, the Browns should have no particular trouble, for the Redskins have won only two games while losing three.

The Giants tangle with the Green Bay Packers in Green Bay, the Los Angeles Rams entertain the Chicago Bears and the Chicago Cardinals are at home to the Philadelphia Eagles in other NFL action Sunday.

In five games, Tommy O'Connell, the Browns' first-line quarterback, has completed 57 per cent of his aerials—a respectable percentage. But he has thrown only 47, and of 30 other attempts by Browns, Milt Plum has 24 with 10 completed for a percentage of 42.

A total of 77 passes in five games compares with what the great Otto Graham used to fling in as few as two contests.

This slighting of the aerial game has meant that the enemy has jammed up on the Browns' running. To loosen up opposing defenses Coach Brown would like a passing attack that would command respect.

Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was translated into 23 languages.

last season, rebounded far enough before the half to provide the slim turnout of fans with an absorbing, if somewhat sloppy, show of football.

It was the fourth win in eight starts for the plucky Blue Lions. In the course of the victory, the WHS team made dubious history by being penalized 115 yards—more than in any single game for several years. The Hilliards squad was not penalized a yard.

RELATED to the penalty rash, is the game's other claim to fame: the fact that it was the contest in which Roger McLean ran 49 yards on a fourth down play, only to miss making a first down. All that happened in the third quarter after the Lions had lost 10 yards on bungled offense and 30 yards more on a pair of clipping charges. McLean, plunging off the tackle, carried the ball just two feet short of the needed 50 yards.

Still sore about that game a year ago, the WHS squad wasted a minimum of time in showing Hilliards fans what they were there for. Right End Jack Wilson caught a pass in the end zone for the first TD after just 'two short minutes of play.

The pass, a 20-yarder from Bud-

Bloomington Bulldogs Win Cage Openers

Bloomington High School's fast and handy Bulldogs out-fought and out-manuevered a towering bunch of cagers from Simon Kenton High School at Lees Creek to win their first game of the basketball season by a convincing 51 to 37 score Friday night on their home floor.

The varsity victory followed a thriller in which the Bloomington Bulldogs reserves nosed out the Lees Creek reserves, 32 to 21, despite the absence of four boys with flu.

The Bulldogs, at a big height disadvantage, made precision teamwork and timing count. Don Hidy got seven field goals from just about as many angles and distances. Riley, who also hit for 14 points, got his on the end of a fast break.

The Bulldogs used a zone defense through the entire game to keep their lanky visitors from getting those close-in shots.

The Simon Kentons used a man-to-man defense, but could not keep up with the quick shifts of the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs play their next game Tuesday night at Scioto High School in Pickaway County.

Mikan Still Seeks Win with Lakers

NEW YORK (AP)—Big George Mikan is finding out that there's a big difference between coaching and playing.

He was the toast of Minneapolis when he was pouring in points for the Lakers from a pivot post. As coach of the NBA club now, he can't find a winning combination. Friday night, the Lakers lost their third game of the season without a triumph.

They were defeated by the Syracuse Nationals, 113-100. In the other NBA game Friday night, the Cincinnati Royals survived a shaky first half and went on to whip the St. Louis Hawks, 99-92.

and Crouse marched the ball down to the five, where the two teams exchanged fumbles before Kenny Evans got a chance to carry over.

Dick Anders' place kick was a good one on that, and it put the Lions on top, 13-0.

Evans almost scored another touchdown five plays later when he parlayed his team's classy reverse play into a 30-yard run for pay dirt. The play was called back on a penalty. And the Lions had to wait an additional five minutes before scoring a third time.

Herman did the honors on that third one, after Lynch set things up with a 16-yard pass to Anders on the four.

WITH MEMORIES of one unsuccessful touchdown run already dancing in his head, Kenny Evans got what must have been the most heartbreaking twist of the ball game just after the quarter change.

Knocking off tacklers as they were flies, Kenny traveled 63 yards down the sidelines for what appeared to be the fourth touchdown run of the game. It wasn't the officials said. Evans was declared out of bounds after the first seven yards.

Taking advantage of a little understandable Lion cockiness, the Hilliards squad scored just before the half ended on an eight-yard run by Halfback Dick Murdoch. End Bob Ebright had started the

The Warriors, using a fast break much of the time, got nearly all of their field goals from close in.

To throw the Warrior defense off balance, Garrison got three field goals from the side and Speakman got four from out in front.

The Warriors will play their next game with the Adams Township team from Clinton County on the Bloomington floor Nov. 9. The Warriors are playing most of their "home" games at Bloomington and Good Hope this year.

The Bulldogs will play their next game Friday on their own court with Scioto.

Australia Develops Another Tennis Star

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Youthful Ro Emerson, playing in his first major Australian tournament, won the Queensland Tennis Championship today by crushing Neale Fraser 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Emerson, who had been seeded fifth, thus stamped himself as a likely member of the Aussie Davis Cup squad in the challenge round next month.

Herman did the honors on that third one, after Lynch set things up with a 16-yard pass to Anders on the four.

WITH MEMORIES of one unsuccessful touchdown run already dancing in his head, Kenny Evans got what must have been the most heartbreaking twist of the ball game just after the quarter change.

Knocking off tacklers as they were flies, Kenny traveled 63 yards down the sidelines for what appeared to be the fourth touchdown run of the game. It wasn't the officials said. Evans was declared out of bounds after the first seven yards.

Taking advantage of a little understandable Lion cockiness, the Hilliards squad scored just before the half ended on an eight-yard run by Halfback Dick Murdoch. End Bob Ebright had started the

New Holland's Bulldogs, sparked by John Lininger, won their season's basketball opener, 57 to 31 Friday night on their own floor, from the Madison Mills Warriors.

But the Madison Mills reserves won the opener, 26 to 22. King and Conley, who spearheaded the Madison Mills attack, accounted for half of their team's 26 points. Bochar, with 12 points, led the New Holland offense and turned in the high individual score.

Lininger was the big difference in the varsity game. He accounted for 27 points on 10 field goals were from under the basket where he could take advantage of his 6-1 height, but he also was an important cog in the Bulldog floor maneuvers.

drive on the 35-yard line by intercepting a pass from Lynch.

THE LION last score came in the fourth quarter just after McLean's comic-opera 49-yard run. Pushed back to the Hilliards 33, the visitors used a pass from Lynch to Anders and a nine-yard run by Herman to score once more. Jim Wilson got off a good kick while Jack Anders nursed a sore leg. The score stood 26-6.

Hilliards got its only other tally just before the end of the game, with Roger Pritchard kicking the point as the clock showed one second left to play.

Dick Harrison scored the futile touchdown on the business end of a pass from quarterback Harold Evrns.

The division reported rabbit hunting this year should be as good or slightly better than last.

Pitt Coach Given New 3-Year Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Coach John Michelson will direct the University of Pittsburgh football team through 1960 as a reward for leading the Panthers to two bowl games in his first two years at the helm.

Athletic Director Tom Hamilton said Michelson, 42, was given a new three-year contract. His present pact expires this year.

Michelson's teams have won 17, lost 8 and tied 1. His 1955 squad was defeated by Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl. The 1956 team was whipped by Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl.

Plenty of Birds Awaiting Hunters

COLUMBUS (AP)—The opening of the pheasant hunting season Nov. 15 will see the highest pheasant population since 1951, the Ohio Division of Wildlife says.

The best hunting should be in the northwestern area of the state, particularly in the old Lake Erie lake bed region, the division said. Good hunting is also likely in a number of fringe counties in central and western Ohio.

The division reported rabbit hunting this year should be as good or slightly better than last.

Webb Seeks More Bouts, Then Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Spider Webb is no exception. Like all good fighters, he wants the champion. If the champ has other business pending, like Carmen Basilio and his obligation to give Ray Robinson another chance, then the Spider is willing to take on the others.

"We'll take Joey Giardello, Gene Fullmer, Charles Humez or anybody to get in there," said Webb's manager, Hec Knowles after Friday night's unanimous 10-round decision over Willie Vaughn. "All we are looking

Candidates Due To Reveal Plans After Tuesday

Election Seen Date For Announcements On State Ticket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Tuesday's election will clear the decks

said reports from over the state
indicate that next year's election
races will start much earlier than usual.

Inquiries about petitions for congress as well as for state offices,
from governor on down, have been numerous. Without identifying the callers, Brown said they
pointed to early announcements.

Leadoff man in the gubernatori-

nard E. Sensenbrenner. He obtained petitions to qualify for the

a candidate screening committee.

Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman said announce-

Tuesday's ballot counting is finished.

Second to announce for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was Mrs. Julio Suarez, Columbus
housewife, who said she felt Ohio-
ans would like to see a woman in
that office.

A Columbus attorney, Roy Hop-
ple, former state employee in the state tax and liquor departments,
obtained petitions for the Democrats nomination for lieutenant governor to make his first race
for elective office.

Primary election winners next
May will become finalists in the
pay-off election contests next November.

Republicans holding elective
state offices, from Gov. C. William O'Neill on down and most of
Ohio's congressional seats, are expected to seek reelection.

An incentive for opponents will
be Ohio's first four-year terms for elective state offices. Several state senators also will be elected to serve for four years. They now
serve for two years.

Hopes of several potential candidates for 1958 hang on the outcome of this year's general election that carries mainly local interest.

An example is the contest between Youngstown Mayor Frank
X. Kryzan, a Democrat, and his
Republican opponent, G. Stanley
Kreier. Kryzan must win reelection
if he expects to make the race for governor again. He was an unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate in 1956.

Another potential Democratic candidate for governor is unopposed for reelection as mayor of
Cleveland. He is Anthony J. Cele-
brezze, former state senator.

Major interest in Tuesday's

Candidates Due To Reveal Plans After Tuesday

Election Seen Date For Announcements On State Ticket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tues-
day's election will clear the decks
for announcements by candidates eager to start 1958 campaigns for congress and state offices.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown
said reports from over the state
indicate that next year's election
races will start much earlier than usual.

Inquiries about petitions for congress as well as for state offices,
from governor on down, have
been numerous. Without identifying the callers, Brown said they
pointed to early announcements.

Leadoff man in the gubernatorial field was Columbus Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner. He obtained petitions to qualify for the Democratic nomination in the May primaries without waiting for party state headquarters to set up
a candidate screening committee.

Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman said announcement of the committee membership would be delayed until after Tuesday's ballot counting is finished.

Second to announce for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was
Mrs. Julio Suarez, Columbus
housewife, who said she felt Ohio-
ans would like to see a woman in
that office.

A Columbus attorney, Roy Hop-
ple, former state employee in the
state tax and liquor departments,
obtained petitions for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor to make his first race
for elective office.

Primary election winners next
May will become finalists in the
pay-off election contests next November.

Republicans holding elective
state offices, from Gov. C. William O'Neill on down and most of
Ohio's congressional seats, are expected to seek reelection.

An incentive for opponents will
be Ohio's first four-year terms for
elective state offices. Several state
senators also will be elected to serve for four years. They now
serve for two years.

Hopes of several potential candidates for 1958 hang on the outcome of this year's general election that carries mainly local interest.

An example is the contest between Youngstown Mayor Frank
X. Kryzan, a Democrat, and his
Republican opponent, G. Stanley
Kreier. Kryzan must win reelection
if he expects to make the
race for governor again. He was an unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate in 1956.

Another potential Democratic
candidate for governor is unop-
posed for reelection as mayor of
Cleveland. He is Anthony J. Cele-
brezze, former state senator.

Major interest in Tuesday's voting centers in local races for mayors of cities and villages and other officials, including council-

10-Year Call Set On New Ohio Bonds

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio Sinking Fund Commission has decided to make its first issue of 20-year capital improvement bonds callable in 10 years to save interest charges.

The commission took that action at the recommendation of Gov. C. William O'Neill. The governor said $25 million worth of notes issued last year and an anticipated issue of another $5 million worth yet this year could be paid off by the end of 1968 from cigarette tax revenues.

He explained that the issuance of notes would result in a considerable saving in interest payments required for bonds.

Other Cincinnati employees have been encouraged to remain with the plant leased to Colonial Stores or to find employment in other bakeries in that city.

Meanwhile, the huge baking floor is crowded with workers placing smaller pieces of equipment and putting the finishing touches on the big installations which include new mixers, dough handling systems and overhead cranes which will transport dough from one place to another.

WHS Band In Cincinnati On Saturday

The Washington C. H. High School marching band was in Cincinnati Saturday to take part in the big band day program at the University of Cincinnati between the halves and following the U.C. Detroit football game in Nippert Stadium.

Participating in the spectacle by special invitation will be 29 high school bands from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, 22 of which will take part in the band parade after the game.

Each of the bands has been allotted a minute and a half at the halftime; so, WHS Band Director Robert Neumann said, "there will be no show, no formations... we'll just march across the field like all the others."

During the halftime, all 29 bands will be massed on the football field in a huge block formation for a short concert.

The trip to Cincinnati was made in three chartered busses. They left from the field house at Gardner Park at 8:30 a. m. and will get back around 9 p. m.

ONLY ABOUT three-fourths of the 100-piece WHS band made the trip; the other fourth, approximately 25, are out with the flu.

Neumann said just before leaving that no definite decision had been made as to where the band will eat. "Some of them (band members) want to go down into the city for supper after the game," he said, but added that he was afraid this would make the return too late. However, this has not been ruled out, he said.

If the band stops for supper on the way home, Neumann said, each bus probably will stop at a different place "because not many eating places can take care of around 80 youngsters without a long delay."

THE TRIP to Cincinnati was the second night expedition for the band in as many days.

Friday night it went to Hilliards for the Lion-Hilliards football game... which the Lions won, 26 to 13.

After putting on its show at the halftime, a musical travelogue telling the story of the search for Hernandez's Hide-out, the band started back home, so the boys and girls could get some sleep before turning out to go to Cincinnati.

The band has two more performances—at Circleville next Friday night when the Lions meet the Tigers and the following Friday night, Nov. 15, when the Hurricane comes here from Wilmington for the postponed Homecoming and Band Night game. Seniors in the band will put on their traditional farewell performance Nov. 15 when they march through the hour glass while the rest of the band plays Auld Lang Syne.

WHS Band In Cincinnati On Saturday

The Washington C. H. High School marching band was in Cincinnati Saturday to take part in the big band day program at the University of Cincinnati between the halves and following the UC-Detroit football game in Nippert Stadium.

Participating in the spectacle by special invitation will be 29 high school bands from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, 22 of which will take part in the band parade after the game.

Each of the bands has been allotted a minute and a half at the halftime; so, WHS Band Director Robert Neumann said, "there will be no show, no formations . . . we'll just march across the field like all the others."

During the halftime, all 29 bands will be massed on the football field in a huge block formation for a short concert.

The trip to Cincinnati was made in three chartered busses. They left from the field house at Gardner Park at 8:30 a. m. and will get back around 9 p. m.

ONLY ABOUT three-fourths of the 100-piece WHS band made the trip; the other fourth, approximately 25, are out with the flu.

Neumann said just before leaving that no definite decision had been made as to where the band will eat. "Some of them (band members) want to go down into the city for supper after the game," he said, but added that he was afraid this would make the return too late. However, this has not been ruled out, he said.

If the band stops for supper on the way home, Neumann said, each bus probably will stop at a different place "because not many eating places can take care of around 80 youngsters without a long delay."

THE TRIP to Cincinnati was the second night expedition for the band in as many days.

Friday night it went to Hillsiards for the Lion-Hillards football game . . . which the Lions won, 26 to 13.

After putting on its show at the halftime, a musical travelogue telling the story of the search for Hernando's Hide-out, the band started back home, so the boys and girls could get some sleep before turning out to go to Cincinnati.

The band has two more performances—at Circleville next Friday night when the Lions meet the Tigers and the following Friday night, Nov. 15, when the Hurricane comes here from Wilmington for the postponed Homecoming and Band Night game. Seniors in the band will put on their traditional farewell performance Nov. 15 when they march through the hour glass while the rest of the band plays Auld Lang Syne.

Both were discovered on routine checks.
